GRAF EN ROUTE TO LOS ANGELES NOW; WELL ON JOURNEY

Craft's Messages to Japanese Stations Heard at Cordova, Alaska

PASSES OVER SANOKE

On Longest Sustained Flight Over Water Ever Attempted

AMORI, JAPAN, Aug. 23.—(INS)—The Graf Zeppelin flew over Sanohe, in the prefecture of Aomori, in northern Japan at 7.10 o'clock this evening or 6.10 a. m., New York daylight saving time.

CORDOVA, Alaska, Aug. 23.—(INS)—At 1 o'clock this morning, almost three hours after the Graf Zeppelin left Tokyo, the radio station here reported that the dirigible was heard calling Japanese stations.

KASUMIGAURA AIR FIELD, Tokio, Aug. 23.—Starting out on the longest sustained flight over water ever attempted by aircraft, the passenger dirigible Graf Zeppelin left the Kasumigaura Air Field at 3.12 p. m. today (2.12 a. m. New York daylight saving time) for Los Angeles on the third leg of its flight around the world.

The "Jinx" which held the giant air liner captive at this airport for thirty-six hours beyond the time at which she was scheduled to start fled with the slackening of cross-winds which had swept the field all during the morning, and under the expert direction of Commander Dr. Hugo Eckener, the huge craft started on the third lap of its epochal journey without difficulty.

The dirigible lost no time getting into its eighty-five mile an hour stride, for fourteen minutes after the take-off the Graf was reported over Mito City, sixty-five miles north of Tokio and more than twenty miles from the aerodrome.

The Zeppelin was accompanied by a fleet of five Japanese military airplanes which took off from Kasumigaura shortly before the Graf launched herself into the air.

As the probable time of the hop-off had been announced several hours previously, a mammoth crowd had assembled at the aerodrome to bid the aerial monarch farewell. It was estimated that several hundred thousand persons, including German and other foreign residents as well as Japanese, were on the field when the Zeppelin soared majestically into the sky.

The Graf had been ready since midnight to take off on the long trans-Pacific flight. At that time, repairs to the rear motor gondola, damaged when the ship was being walked out of its hangar for the take-off early yesterday, had been completed, and the passengers had assembled for the start.

But a cross-wind of sharp velocity was blowing across the field, and Dr. Eckener decided it would be risky to attempt to take the ship from its hangar until the breeze subsided.

About noon, it was seen that the wind was decreasing in velocity, and Dr. Eckener again ordered all made ready for the start. The ground crew of 500 Japanese soldiers, sailors and marines was reassembled, and the passengers took their places in the main gondola.

There was some delay while Dr. Eckener bid farewell to a number of Japanese dignitaries and government officials who had come to the airport to see the Graf start, and shortly before three o'clock, Dr. Eckener gave the order for the ship to be removed from its hangar.

BAZAAR PROPRIETOR IS SUED FOR HEIFER'S FROLIC

Arthur Fretz is Defendant In Court Action Brought By Doylestown Woman

WAS KNOCKED DOWN

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 23.—Suit has been filed in the Court of Common Pleas of Bucks county by Mabel Charles, of 266 North Main street, this borough, against Arthur Fretz, proprietor of the Doylestown Bazaar, for $1,500 damages for injuries sustained when an unruly heifer at a public sale at the bazaar, broke loose, dashed through the crowd of 200 people and knocked her down.

The statement of claim filed in the office of the Prothonotary states that on March 27, this year, during a public sale, a heifer was brought into the sales room from another section of the building to be offered for sale. The plaintiff was in the building at the time. Breaking away from two men, the heifer, it is alleged, knocked numerous people aside. The plaintiff avers she was knocked to the ground, trampled on, wounded and bruised.

In the affidavit of defense filed by the defendant's attorney, many of the allegations are denied. The defense answers by saying the plaintiff was not in the building for the purpose of buying cattle, and that the heifer did not knock her down, but that if she was injured at all, it was from the stampeding of an excited crowd.

Mrs. Louisa Zimmer, of Edison, has filed a suit for $10,000 damages against William T. Denston. Mrs. Zimmer's minor child, Gertrude, aged eight, was killed on June 1, this year, on the Lackawanna Trail, at Edison, when she was struck by an automobile driven by the defendant.

ZINC IS SUBJECT AT ROTARY CLUB SESSION HERE

Rich'd French Tells Rotarians About Superior Zinc Plant

GIVES MANY FACTS

Gathering Told That 90 Per Cent of Refuse Is Reclaimed

Richard French of the Superior Zinc Corporation gave a very interesting and instructive talk yesterday at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club. Mr. French spoke of the zinc industry as a whole and of the plant of the Superior Zinc Company in particular.

The zinc industry in Bristol is a new one and very little of it is known by Bristol residents.

"The Superior Zinc Corporation of Bristol is a refiner of secondary zinc and handles approximately 25 per cent of the dross produced in this country. This is a necessary function since the use of zinc in galvanizing collects impurities and approximately 22 per cent of the zinc going into the galvanizing kettle is rejected in the form of dross," said the speaker.

Mr. French continued by explaining some of the problems which confront his firm and which they are endeavoring to solve. He called particular attention to the saving resulting to the company by putting the smoke from their retorts through a process by which they reclaim about $3,000 worth of material each month. Approximately 90 per cent of the refuse is now reclaimed, he said.

Prefacing his remark with the statement "to review the zinc industry in a short talk would permit of giving nothing but the superficial," Mr. French then recited numerous facts about the trade of which he was speaking.

"Zinc was first used probably about 4,000 years B. C. in the form of brass, but the element was not known definitely until 4,000 or 5,000 years later. Progress in the metallurgy of zinc was very slow until the 18th century. The first smelting plant of record was at Bristol, England, in 1740. From there the art spread to Germany, which was the largest early producer. "There was a little zinc smelted for the government in Washington in 1835, but the first commercial attempt was in Newark, N. J., in 1850, where a very little zinc was made. The first record production of zinc in the United States was at South Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, where 20 tons was produced in 1858.

"Progress was slow in this line in the United States until about 1890, and in 1909 the United States became the greatest producer of zinc in the world, which position it has since held.

"The production at present is slightly over 600,000 tons per year of primary zinc, which does not quite reach the war time peak of 1917. A great advance in metallurgy has been made and the production of electrolytic zinc is increasing rapidly. This year it will probably account for about 1-3 of the production in this country.

"There are various technical problems in the zinc industry to be worked out and the Superior Zinc Corporation is hopeful of results which will lead to the expansion of the work here in the near future," he concluded.

GREAT DOMINION OFFERS MUCH TO ALL TOURISTS

St. Lawrence River Valley Is Especially Delightful Just Now

EXCELLENT HIGHWAYS

Canada in mid-summer beckons seductively to motorists seeking escape from heat ridden congested regions. In almost every section of the great dominion are numerous delightful summer playgrounds, but none hold forth better promise of an enjoyable vacation than that section of the St. Lawrence River valley between Montreal and Quebec.

"The Keystone Automobile Club has mapped a motor journey to this delightful region where all manner of outdoor sports can be enjoyed," says Russell B. Carty, representative of the club. "Another feature of this particular tour is the combination of comfortable travel over excellent uncrowded highways amid countryside abounding in scenic and historic interest."

From Bristol pass through Langhorne, Newtown and Buckingham to Doylestown. From there the tour leads north in the Lackawanna Trail, national route 611, through Easton to East Stroudsburg. Here a right turn into national route 209 carries the tourists to Port Jervis, N. Y. Northward over national route 6N the journey winds through Wurtsboro to Kingston on the banks of the Hudson River. Here the Storm King Highway, national route 9W is met and followed northward to Albany.

From here the roadway numerals change to national route 9 as the tour passes through the lovely scenic regions of Lake George and Lake Champlain on the way to Rouses Point. The international boundary is crossed and the travelers use the famous King Edward Highway to St. Lambert. Here the St. Lawrence River is crossed into Montreal.

Montreal, a charming city combining features of both the old and new world occupies the key position in the beautiful province of Quebec. Three centuries of romantic history stand behind it and famous names cluster its traditions. Here stands Notre Dame, the largest church in North America, able to hold 10,000 worshippers. The section lying between the church and the St. Lawrence River is filled with quaint buildings reminiscent of early days. Side trips lead to such places as the rapids below Lachine; the Island of Montreal, the delightful "Lake Shore" section; the famous Black River resorts and scores of historic shrines set amid delightful scenic surroundings.

No trip to Canada would be complete without a journey into the Laurentian Mountains and Ottawa, the capital of the dominion. Over provincial route 27 to Vaudreuil the tour leads on this route. Here route 17 is met and followed through Hawkesbury and Rockland to Ottawa. Northward from Montreal provincial route 2 leads along the northern bank of the blue St. Lawrence through Three Rivers to Quebec. With the name of this city are linked those of heroic soldiers, priests and pioneers who established civilization in the new world.

Outside the city are the Plains of Abraham one of the most famous battlefields on the North American continent. The lower section of the town is rich in monuments and history. On Cape Diamond is perched the Citadel, the picturesque old ramparts and the city gates. Quaint villages can be seen on the beautiful wooded Isle d'Orleans in the river below the town. Another delightful side trip can be made to Montmorency Falls where the river of that name plunges 275 feet downward to join the St. Lawrence. Through countryside similar to old Normandy, another journey leads to the famous church of Ste. Anne de

Authorities Start Investigation and State Police Are Assigned to the Case -- Coroner Believes Suicide Was Cause of Death -- Revolver Was Found Beneath Mattress on Opposite Side of Room -- No One Heard the Shots Fired.

BELIEVE THAT MAN MAY HAVE GRIEVED ABOUT LOSS OF WATCH WHILE ON TRIP TO PHILADELPHIA LAST SATURDAY -- BODY FOUND BY A NEIGHBOR WHO BROUGHT WORD THAT THE WATCH HAD BEEN FOUND AND WAS SAFE IN THE HANDS OF A FRIEND.

CROYDON, Aug. 23.—An aged recluse was found dead here last night by a neighbor who went to his home to deliver a message from a friend in Philadelphia.

The dead:

Conrad Steinberg, 70, Emily and Miller avenue.

Steinberg was found in his bed room with a bullet wound near his heart. It had gone through the left lung. He had a tin cup in his hand as if he had been getting a drink of water. He had fallen backward into a large pan which was on the floor.

Steinberg lived alone in a one-story two-room cottage. He had lived here for the past 12 years, and peddled medicine for rheumatism about the neighborhood and in Philadelphia. He would walk to Philadelphia three or four times each week. He neved used the trains or trolley cars. He was eccentric.

DISMANTLE BOBBIN FACTORY AT NEWTOWN

Business Stopped Due to Use of Silk Instead of Cotton

USE PAPER TUBES NOW

NEWTOWN, Aug. 23.—After nearly thirty-five years of operation as a bobbin factory, the fine factory building on Sterling street, has been definitely closed by the U. S. Bobbin and Shuttle Company.

The last of the machinery of the Bobbin Company was dismantled last week under the direction of Wesley Pownall and a company representative from Providence, R. I.

Another plant of the same company was recently closed at Auburn, Maine. A Haverhill, Mass., shoe firm has leased that building.

The factory building on Sterling street was originally built by a group of Newtown men.

About the year 1890 a number of progressive business men of Newtown including Ashbel Watson, John M. Stapler, George Worstell, Willis Worstell, William Wynkoop, Justice Baker, George A. Jenks, Paul Blaker and others, for the benefit of Newtown, formed what was known as the Newtown Improvement Company, and erected the substantial mill on Sterling street. It was first occupied by a Mr. Pywell as a hosiery mill.

Not being very successful, Mr. Pywell gave the plant up and it was then occupied by a woman for the manufacture of fancy glassware, etc. Later the improvement company sold the buildings to the Mawson Brothers, who came here from Yardley, their

The finding of Steinberg has created a mystery for Bucks County authorities, as a revolver thought to belong to the dead man was found beneath a mattress on the bed.

Coroner John J. Sweeney and State Police from Doylestown came here near midnight and started an investigation. They had been summoned by Justice Laughlin to whom the finding of the body had been reported.

Steinberg's body was found by Thomas Roberts, of Wyoming avenue, who lives a short distance from him. Roberts is employed by Owen Letters, coal dealer of Philadelphia, and a man who works with him knew Steinberg, it appears. Steinberg was in Philadelphia on Saturday and when he returned home he found that his watch was missing. Word was sent to Steinberg last night through Roberts that his friend had found the watch and that it was safe. "Tell him not to worry about it," was the message sent.

Roberts went to the Steinberg home last night at about 7 o'clock to deliver the message and when he walked into the room was startled to find Steinberg lying across a large pan which was on a bench. He at once notified Justice of Peace James Laughlin, who in turn summoned the coroner.

A search of the premises was made and a revolver was found beneath the mattress, which is thought to belong to the dead man.

Coroner Sweeney is of the opinion that Steinberg shot himself, put the revolver under the mattress and then walked across the room to get a drink of water as a man would naturally do after his lung had been punctured. Reaching the wash basin and getting the water, it is believed that Steinberg fell to the bench dead.

Very little blood had flowed from the wounds made by the bullets but this is attributed to the fact that the shots were fired at close range and that the powder stopped the flow of blood.

Steinberg had purchased a cemetery lot and deeds to this were found spread on a table of the room.

Coroner Sweeney has ordered State Trooper Bued to further probe the case today before Deputy Coroner W. Furman Young issues a certificate as to the cause of death.

Steinberg was last seen in the community on Tuesday.

The man walked to Philadelphia for his groceries and often carried heavy baskets full back with him, which made the neighbors marvel because of his advanced age.

None of the neighbors heard the firing of the pistol.

It is argued that if Steinberg did commit suicide he did so while in a fit of melancholy over the loss of his watch. He was of an eccentric nature and had very little to say to neighbors. He lived alone and often sat upon the porch of his small home and smoked his pipe. He did not mingle with those who resided in the neighborhood.

When he made his trips to Philadelphia he visited friends there and purchased his groceries. Despite his 70 years of age and the fact that he could not walk very well, yet he would carry his basket all the way here rather than use trains or trolley cars.

The rheumatism medicine which he sold is said to have been very effective. Steinberg held the formula for the preparation and had a druggist compound it.

Steinberg's body was found 10 feet from the bed under the mattress of which the revolver had been concealed. There had been two shots fired from the revolver which was of .32 calibre. Only one of these bullets had entered the man's body. Search of the

SPEECH AS A SAFETY VALVE

Although bristling with practical difficulties, the question of free speech is one concerning which the citizen must have well-defined opinions. Books by the hundred and platform utterances by the thousand cover the subject theoretically. The rub comes in its everyday application.

History as well as common sense teaches the simple lesson that severe repression often proves its own undoing. Impeach as we may the motives or character of the adventurous spirits responsible for the French and Russian revolutions, yet there is more than a suspicion that their bloody and tyrannous struggle holds came about partly because of preceding regimes of suppression as well as corruption. One extreme leads to another; if the pendulum swings too far one way, it does not come to rest until it has gone to the opposite extreme.

People who favor unbounded freedom of speech and those who are thinking chiefly of the danger of destructive propaganda, both overlook the fact that these matters are pretty well governed by definite law. Usually it is better to let the pink say his speech without protest, and then hold him responsible for what he says under the law as it exists.

After all, a sound citizenship must be exposed now and then to more or less silly extravagances of ideas. For the most part people recognize buncomb when they hear or read it. It evaporates when it strikes the air, and the citizen, half amused and half indifferent, pauses for only a fraction of a minute, and goes about his own affairs.

TREES THAT GROW

Refutation in feet and figures has been given restless-minded persons who take no interest in reforestation on the ground that trees grow too slowly. They think it is unreasonable to expect people to plant today what no one can reap for half a century.

Reports from individuals who put out forest seedlings furnished by state governments show that in even a few years certain species become sizable trees. There are trees which, in favorable climates, will grow two feet a year. Some will grow as much as three feet in 12 months.

Seedlings, or transplanted trees, only a few inches high usually grow slowly during the first year. But once they "take root" they shoot up rapidly. Much depends on the care given them when planted, and on the nature of the soil and drainage. A forest once well started shows marked growth within a few years.

But there are other satisfactions from reforestation besides seeing the seedling arrive at its full stature and enjoying its cool shade. Immature trees improve the landscape and soil, purify the air and surface water sources, and give the planter the feeling of leaving an heritage to posterity.

A free people is one that preserves its inalienable right to cuss its institutions.

A heathen is a man who does not know enough about religion to understand the fights.

Years ago men discovered that the earth isn't flat, after all—and that didn't kill Christianity.

Win a customer on price appeal and you'll lose him the same way. Win him on quality and he's yours for good. My method is quality.

It takes more to make a merchandisable suit of clothes than a few yards of cloth and some buttons and thread. It requires high artistry in designing to give it style; rare skill in cutting to insure fit and uniformity; and careful hand tailoring to impart quality and wearability. That's Cohen's method. An open mind is one of a business man's best assets.

Still, there's always plenty of parking space on Easy street.

She was only an oil man's daughter but she surely had plenty of natural resources.

A hypocrite these days is a man who eats clover so as to make his friends think he is rich enough to buy a drink.

INTEGRITY

Integrity helps to reach the goal. You surely will confess. With wisdom, thrift and self-control. On the path to win success.

Steward at Elks' Home: "There is a lady outside who says her husband promised to come home early tonight. The entire gathering (rising together): "Excuse me a moment."

The chronic smoker rarely ever has a match.

Marriage seems to have developed into a problem which has to be worked out of.

No one ever suspected that some girls are knock-kneed and bow-legged until fashion gave them away.

"That is a skyscraper," announced the guide.

Old Lady: "Oh, my! I'd love to see it work."

It is not true that all the world loves a lover. Only a small portion of it can hardly stand him.

MORAL SPASMS

When I've put off from day to day A task, and then complete it I feel so smugly virtuous—say! I ask you, could you beat it?

With such complacency I regard My quite superior morals. All further effort I discard And rest upon my laurels.

And speaking of feet, who was it remarked, "By their dogs you shall know them?"

HARD TO BELIEVE

"I am sending you a thousand kisses," he wrote to his fair young wife who was spending her first month away from him.

Two days later he received the following telegram: "Kisses received. Ice man refused to accept any of them on account." Then he woke up and forwarded a check.

Knicker: "How, in the name of seven wonders of the world, do you manage to hang on so long to the same cook?"

Becker: "She's a golf fiend, and my wife and she play every day to see whose day off it is."

Quackery of all kinds will continue to prosper so long as there is a demand for it.

"Do you act towards your wife as you did before you were married?"

"Exactly. I remember just how I used to act when I first fell in love with her. I used to lean over the fence in front of her house and gaze at her shadow on the curtain, afraid to go in. And I act just the same way now."

"I think I'll commit suicide." "Good, but turn off the gas when you're through."

Buy Your Tires on a Guaranteed Mileage Basis

Save $2 to $15 per Tire

All tires look good . . . when they're new. And they are good. But the big question that concerns the buyer is—"How Good?"

To that question . . . names, claims, differences in price, do not offer the final answer.

So far as we know, there is only one thing that does answer the question: a definite, specific GUARANTEE of the minimum mileage your tire will deliver. . . .

That is the basis—and the ONLY basis—on which automobile tires are sold by Montgomery Ward & Co.

The names RIVERSIDE and WARDWEAR are as good as any other tire names. But we do not advance names as the reason why you should buy from Ward's. Our tires are built by nationally-known manufacturers—of the finest materials and by the most modern methods . . . yet that is not the chief reason why millions of motorists are today riding on RIVERSIDES. We also claim that these tires represent more value per-dollar than any other tires built . . . yet similar claims are offered on behalf of other brands.

None of these things decides the question of QUALITY. . . So—we offer you Ward's three guarantees . . . 30,000 miles unconditionally on the Super Service RIVERSIDE; 16,000 miles on the First-Quality RIVERSIDE; 10,000 miles on the WARDWEAR . . . as instant indicators of the tire quality you can count on when you buy from Ward's.

—And Ward's prices clinch the argument with a SAVING of $2 to $15 on every tire!

Visit our store today—examine these tires for yourself. Remember: the proof of any advertisement is the performance of the product—and RIVERSIDE performance is definitely guaranteed! That's why we say: Do not pay more for any other tire . . . unless more miles are guaranteed.

EVERYTHING

ONE-FEATURE gasolines are plentiful. But the new-type, extra-powered Atlantic combines in highest degree all the qualities needed for a motor fuel's many-sided job. It is the most complete-burning, most accurately balanced—most ideally correct all-round gasoline ever formulated for modern motors and present-day driving conditions.

1

EASY STARTING

Without sacrifice of power, Atlantic Gasoline contains just the right proportion of the lighter or more volatile elements needed to let the spark take hold quickly when the motor is cold.

2

QUICK PICK-UP

Easy and complete ignition, through a scientifically balanced "chain of boiling points," makes Atlantic instantly responsive to the command of the throttle. Note Atlantic's action in traffic!

3

EXTRA POWER

By bringing more of the higher power-producing elements of petroleum into a form that enables modern motors to utilize them fully, a pronounced degree of extra power has been developed in Atlantic Gasoline.

4

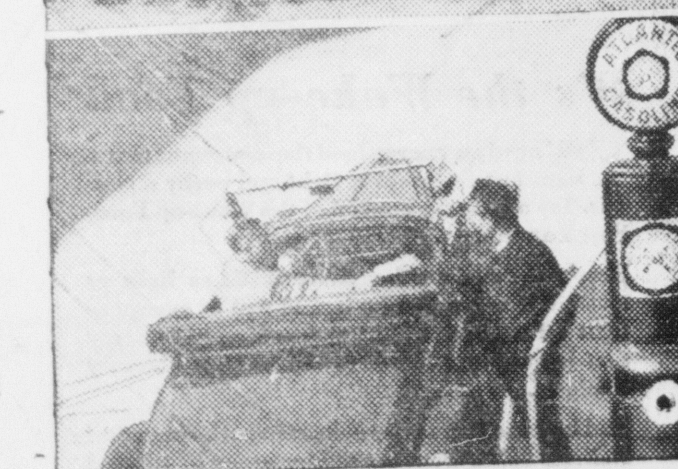

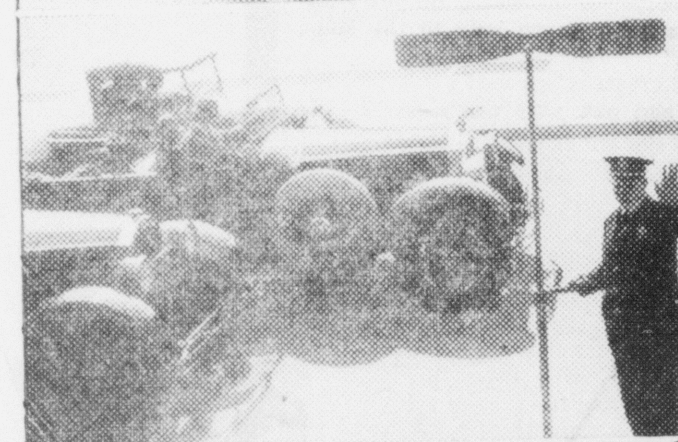

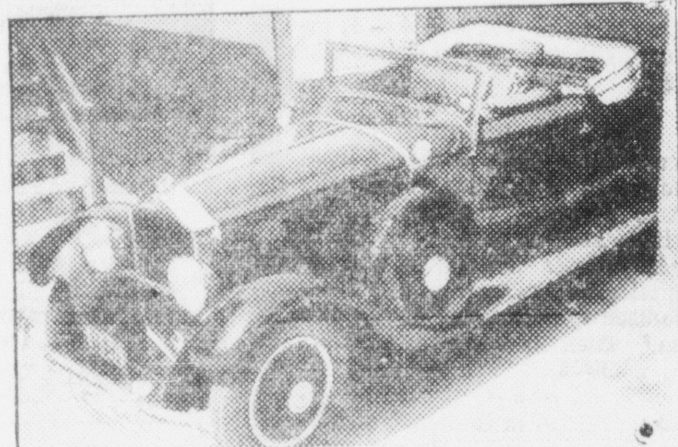

MAXIMUM MILEAGE

Atlantic Gasoline is so remarkably clean and so splendidly balanced that complete burning is inevitable, maximum mileage obvious and pocketbook economy an undisputed fact.

5

READY OBTAINABILITY

No matter how good a motor fuel may be, it is of little use to you unless you can get it when you want it. There's always an Atlantic pump on the road you are traveling. Convenient and dependable service assured!

In memory of Mrs. Sarah Jeffries, who died August 23, 1928.

'Tis hard to break the tender cord
'Tis hard to break the heart,

In the peaceful grave's embrace,
But thy memory will be cherished
'Till we see thy heavenly face.

COLUMBIA GRID SQUAD IS SHORT OF GOOD GUARD

By Copeland C. Burg
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Some coaches believe a football team is as strong as its tackles.

If that is true Columbia's prospects are roseate this fall.

Coach Charley Crowley, the former Notre Dame and Harvard star, has not only Captain Mal Blecker and Remy Tys, both veterans, available at tackle but in addition four others. These are Weinstein, McDuffee and Banko off the frosh team and Blasi, a 1927 performer, who did not report for football last year.

But while Crowley has plenty of tackle material, his line may be far from formidable unless the early season develops unexpectedly. Columbia loses its 1928 captain, Bill Adler, at guard; Makser, also a guard, and Horace Davenport, captain of the Blue and White champion rowing crew and end on last year's eleven.

Hy Ashman is the only veteran guard available and one of Crowley's chief tasks will be to find another guard. For this position he will have contending Frank Nobiliotti, of the 1928 frosh eleven; W. H. Allan, former frosh guard but switched to the backfield; and Japar, former frosh guard converted into a backfield performer. Both Japar and Allan will probably be sacrificed as backfield candidates to bolster up the guard material, inasmuch as there are plenty of candidates for the half and fullback berths.

To offset the big loss in the backfield, Henry Kumpf, who has graduated, Crowley will have Ralph Hewitt and Charles Joyce. Joyce is quarter and Hewitt plays at fullback. Crowley will also have available for the backfield, Bill Buser, Henry Scott, Phil Liffander, Joseph Stanczyk and James Sheridan.

Scott and Hewitt at half, Stanczyk at full and Joyce at quarter is expected to be Crowley's early season choice for his varsity backfield.

Hewitt will probably carry the burden of Columbia's kicking department this fall. Hewitt is a good kicker and rated a triple-threat man through additional ability as a passer and ball carrier.

Coach Crowley will have some misgivings as he surveys his candidates for end. In addition to Davenport, Columbia has lost Glenn, Kligman, Hinman, Smith and Tassi. Fritz Costigan is the only regular available.

Mrs. Harvey Houser and son, Clifford, of Pond street, spent Saturday visiting relatives in Croydon.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McEuen, of Harrison street, spent the weekend in Seaside.

Mrs. Mangus Koehler, of 232 Harrison street, is spending this week with her son, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Koehler, of Newark, N. J.

KONJOLA ENDED FIFTEEN YEARS' STOMACH MISERY

"I Know of One Word That Describes Konjola, and That Word is Remarkable," She Says

MRS. STEFENINE CERILL
"For fifteen years I suffered from acute stomach trouble that defied all medicines and treatments," said Mrs. Stefenine Cerill, 1347 Fifth Avenue, Coraopolis, Penn. "After every meal I suffered from sharp stabbing pain in the pit of my stomach. Gas former bloating me terribly. My appetite was poor and constipation added greatly to my suffering."

"Just think—two bottles of this marvelous Konjola ended my stomach misery—I found myself in better health than I had been for fifteen years. I have found that no matter how stubborn the case, or of how many years standing, this medicine goes right to work. I know of only one word that describes Konjola, and that is remarkable."

Konjola is sold in Bristol, Pa., at Hoffman's Cut Rate store, and by all the best druggists in towns throughout this entire section.—(Adv.)

A. O. H.-COLORED A. C. GAME CALLED IN FOURTH

(By T. M. Juno)

Darkness interfered with the A. O. H.-Bristol Colored A. C. game last evening. The teams had only played four innings, so everything went to waste. The A. C. was ahead, 5 to 0.

Marshall, who was on the hill for the "Aces," gave up but two hits, one by Pinch-bitter Rodgers, and the other by Connors. He made six of the "Hiboes" hit the air, an average of one and a little more per inning. With the stick, Marshall excelled by clouting two triples, each with a man on base.

Holden was the Hibernians' best. W. Dougherty made two nice catches in centerfield.

The "Aces" scored in the first inning on Marshall's 3-bagger and Brown's single.

Three more came in the second. W. Dougherty singled over second. J. Dougherty was passed. Ringgold, Thompson and Brown singled, counting three runs.

Marshall's second three-bagger with Thompson on base as the result of an error manufactured the last run.

Tonight the Federals will play the Independents.
